

Dr. {NAME},

Attached is information on a symposium on neurofibromatosis that is being presented by the University of Chicago next month on Wednesday, November 9. It's intended to be a learning opportunity for physicians and includes CME credit.

This is an excellent opportunity for physicians in the area to learn more about NF and of great significance to the NF cause. The University of Chicago has doctors that are very knowledgeable in NF, but they are also bringing in respected clinicians and researchers from Massachusetts General Hospital, the University of Alabama and Washington University.

As you know, {I have a child affected with NF/I have NF}. I hope that you will consider attending and/or encourage others from your practice to attend. I would also greatly appreciate it if you could help us get the word out other colleagues.

Sincerely,

{Your Name}
